

Survey of the manor and honour of Wem, 1589

This survey was made by the Crown after it seized the estates of Philip Howard, 13th Earl of Arundel following his trial and attainder in 1589. Arundel held this manor in the right of his wife, Anne née Dacre: the crown subsequently restored the manor to her and she continued in possession until her death in 1630. The survey is important record of the manor at the end of the sixteenth century although it is not as full and detailed as that prepared by Anne Howard's father, the third Lord Dacre, in 1561.<sup>1</sup> In fact its relative brevity allows some features to be seen more clearly.

A partial transcript was originally made by Professor R W Hoyle for internal VCH use. (The image numbers have been left in the text and can be ignored by readers.) It was revised in 2021 and some sections transcribed for the first time by Tony Carr, for whose efforts we are most grateful.

The transcript is © VCH Shropshire Ltd 2021. It is supplied for research purposes only and is not to be reproduced further without permission. VCH Shropshire Ltd takes no responsibility for any misreadings or errors of transcription. We welcome any corrections.
